

Vol. 15, No 1, May 2009

Call for articles and commentaries:

Diversity, identity and the media

Edition editor: A/Professor David Robie (AUT)

Articles are sought for publication in the May 2009 edition of Pacific Journalism Review. This themed edition will be linked to the 2008 National and Media Diversity Forum seminar at AUT University, Auckland, Aotearoa/New Zealand, August 25, "What is happening now and what needs to happen?". The editors will be especially interested in articles or commentaries exploring themes in the Asia-Pacific region such as:

- Changing demographics and the impact on news media
- Independent indigenous and ethnic media
- Alternative news value frames and models
- Culture, language and media identity
- Multi-modality and new forms of storytelling
- Intellectual property and rights to information
- 'Lost in translation' cultural dilemmas
- Migrant and diaspora media and cultural identity
- Reporting vs advocacy
- Ethics, accountability and regulation
- Conflict and peace media
- Cross-cultural journalism education

Articles on other topics related to media and journalism theory and practice may also be considered. The journal has four main sections: Research articles, Commentaries, Forum and Reviews.
